Teens warned as school targeted

YOUNG people are being warned to drink and behave sensibly during the summer holidays after a school's windows were smashed.

Despite repeated warnings from police in an effort to curb the number of drink-related offences involving teenagers, especially those who have just left school, Samuel Ward Academy in Chalkstone Way, Haverhill, was targeted over the weekend.

PCSO Debs Carroll-Beer said: "I can confirm that over the weekend several windows at Samuel Ward were smashed with rocks and stones."

"There is CCTV and this has been viewed. We are confident we will find out who did this."

"Just because the school is closed for the summer, nobody has the right to trespass."

Haverhill officers have been challenged by the community to clamp down on anti-social behaviour amid residents' complaints that large groups of youths have caused problems in certain areas of the town, including the Recreation Ground and railway line.

Suffolk Police's chief inspector Kerry Cutler said: "We know young people will be spending more time socialising and are often outdoors in warm weather either having parties, barbecues or just going into town, and we really want to get a message to them to think about their behaviour and the impact alcohol can have on them."

"We want them to take a sensible approach to drinking and want them to respect themselves by being responsible."

Police also traditionally see a rise in sexual assaults during the summer, as well as thefts and robbery.

Standards up, but county primary kids behind UK average

PRIMARY school leavers in Suffolk have performed worse than the national average – but standards in the county have improved since last year.

The results of the Key Stage 2 Sats tests in mathematics and English, made up of reading and writing papers, which were taken by thousands of 11-year-old pupils in England at the end of the school year, were published on Tuesday.

They show 78 per cent of youngsters in the county have reached the expected standard of at least level four in English, in comparison with 81 per cent in England as a whole, and 76 per cent of youngsters in Suffolk met the expected level in the maths test, 4 per cent below the national average. But the proportion of the county's children who reached the expected levels in English and maths is up by 1 per cent on last year.

The number of children in England who achieved the expected standards in all subjects climbed 3 per cent from last year to 67 per cent, but one third of children across the country still left school with some skills at the level expected of a 7-year-old, according to the Department of Education's figures.

In Suffolk, 7 per cent of 11-year-olds only reached level two in English, compared with 6 per cent across England.

In maths, 6 per cent of Suffolk's youngsters only achieved the level two standard, while the national average was 5 per cent.

The proportion of youngsters achieving level five or higher across the subjects have also fallen by 1 per cent from 14 per cent last year.

In Suffolk, 30 per cent scored a higher than the expected level in maths, whereas the national average was 35 per cent, while 25 per cent exceeded expectations in English, compared to 29 per cent up and down the country.

Suffolk's girls performed better than its boys in the English tests, and youngsters' maths scores are equal, except in the number of children achieving level five or higher.

Mums set for big push

PROUD mum Vikki Brown is so happy to have her healthy son Spencer that she had decided to take him on a buggy ride to help raise for other mothers and their babies.

Vikki, 26, a beauty therapist, had Spencer, her first child, nine months ago. They are inviting others to join them for a Buggy Push for the charity Bliss, which helps mothers and their premature babies, on August 14 at Jesus Green, Cambridge. So far mums Kerry Bailey with Harrison, Lyndsey McCormack with Georgie and Nicola Stevens with Amelia have signed up for the event.

Vikki, of Cramswell Road, Haverhill, hopes to get plenty of other mums to join in and boost the funds for the charity. She said: "I feel very lucky that he was full-term and very healthy. I have always wanted to do something for charity and because I have Spencer, even though he wasn't premature, this is something very close to me heart.

"I was in hospital for three days and there were mothers there who had their babies prematurely and I thought I wanted to do something for this charity. I have already got some of my friends coming along and we would love to have others join us. There is also going to be a teddy bears' picnic and face-painting after the push. We have had a huge response so far and it will be a big event and a great day."

Anyone who wants to take part or sponsor Vikki can contact her via my email at vikkibrown84@hotmail.com.

Pastors are ready to hit the streets

On duty: pastors ready to help on the streets of Haverhill. CP

CHURCHES from across Haverhill and the district are teaming up to offer a support service for late-night drinkers in the town.

The Haverhill Pastors will be patrolling the town centre on Friday evenings – starting tomorrow – to help people who might have had a little too much to drink.

Last Friday, a special commissioning service was held for the 13 volunteers who hope to become a permanent fixture in Haverhill, clad in high-visibility jackets and operating from their base in the Old Independent Church in Hamlet Road.

Captain Andrew Payne, a minister of the Anglican St Mary's Church as well as organiser of the pastors, said: "The pastors have all completed their training course and have been commissioned on behalf of the local churches.

"They will be out there as an extra presence out on the streets on Friday evenings to be a welfare service.

"They will help people who have had a lot to drink and make everyone feel a little safer."

The pastors from churches in Haverhill, Steeple Bumpstead and Kedington will tour the town centre from 9pm until 3am each week and will offer chocolate and basic medical aid if needed, while working alongside the emergency services.

Capt Payne added: "We are in a time when police numbers are going down and people are worried about crime – I am sure it will be of benefit just to have extra people around."

The patrols will be supplemented by a rota of volunteers working from the Hamlet Road church who will pray for the town.

The town pastors scheme is a Christian organisation which has been running around the country for five years. Haverhill is now the ninth town in Suffolk to take it up.

Capt Payne concluded: "We want to put our faith into action and do something practical.

"We want to be a friendly presence and offer help if needed."

Police issue summer crime warning to youths

■ From Page 1

Chief Insp Cutler added: "Stick with your friends and don't travel home alone, don't show off your mobile in public and don't carry your mobile or wallet in your back pocket as opportunist and career thieves can find you easy targets.

"Officers are also asking parents not to provide their children with alcohol and to talk to them about responsible behaviour if they are going out.

"Under the influence of alcohol, you are more likely to find yourself in a vulnerable situation and we don't want to have to contact parents to come and get their child – or worse still, to let them know they have been injured."

Charged with rape of boy

CHARGES of rape and indecent assault of young boys have been made against a 36-year-old man. Benjamin Waldron, of Strawberry Fields, Haverhill, did not appear at Bury St Edmunds Magistrates' Court yesterday last Thursday, when the case against him was adjourned for one week so that it can be sent to Ipswich Crown Court. Waldron faces two charges of rape of a boy under 13 in Haverhill between May 1 2004 and December 24 2009. He also faces two charges of indecently assaulting a boy aged under 16 years in Stoke on Trent between December 25 2003 and February 3 2004, and three charges of indecently assaulting a boy under 13 by touching, all in Haverhill – one between May 1 2004 and December 24 2004, one between December 25 2005 and December 25 2006 and another between December 25 2006 and December 24 2007.

Accused of £2.5k theft

CHARGES of stealing iPods and digital radios worth more than £2,500 from a supermarket and dangerous driving have been denied by a 36-year-old Haverhill man. Jonathan Jolly, 36, of Dunsey Wood Close, is accused of burglary at the Waitrose store in Sudbury in March this year and also faces an allegation of dangerous driving and driving while disqualified in Sudbury last November. He pleaded not guilty to all the offences when he appeared at Ipswich Crown Court on Friday. Judge John Holt told Jolly that he would stand trial for the burglary offence on August 30 while his trial for the motoring offences would take place on September 19. Jolly was remanded in custody until his next court appearance.

Peugeot 406 is damaged

OFFENSIVE graffiti was written in marker pen on a white Peugeot 406. The damage was caused to the vehicle when it was parked in Sorrel Walk, Haverhill between 9.30pm on Tuesday, July 26 and 10.30am the next day. Calls in relation to the incident should be made to PC Andrew Green at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

RSPCA faces a catastrophe

Situation 'worst I've seen' says re-homer after number of dumped kittens rockets

THE RSPCA has been taken over by unwanted kittens – leaving the centre close to breaking point.

A large number of cats have been dumped either with their mother, or have been born while in the charity's care, in Haverhill and surrounding towns and villages in recent weeks.

Typically the RSPCA West Suffolk branch deals with only a handful of cats each month, but currently has a staggering 40 – many just a few days old – being looked after by officers.

A cat re-homer, who did not wish to be named, told the Weekly News that the charity was in crisis across the region, with Haverhill no exception.

She said: "Two weeks ago a heavily-pregnant cat was dumped in the town and fortunately a member of the public found her and took her to the vets, where within hours she gave birth to two kittens.

"They are now in a foster home in Bury St Edmunds.

"And before that four, seven-week-old kittens were found in a brown bag at the side of the road and are now living with me."

The branch in Bury St Edmunds, which also covers Thetford and Sudbury, is unable to take in any more cats or kittens until new homes can be found for the current ones in their care.

The branch's rehoming coordinator continued: "We are currently dealing with a cat crisis and we really need the public's help.

"It is heartbreaking to think that so many cats have just been dumped in streets or at vets and many of them when they are about to give birth and at a very vulnerable stage.

"Normally we get a rise in the autumn but to have it so soon and so large is shocking.

"In one day alone we had a mother cat and kitten dumped in all the major towns we cover.

"I think this is happening because people can't sell cats anymore and they are chucking them rather than getting them neutered – but we can do this for free.

"I have been doing this for 11 years and this is the worst situation I have seen."

Anyone interested in offering a cat or kitten a new home is urged to contact the RSPCA West Suffolk branch on 0845 2000287 or by visiting www.rspcasuffolk.org.uk.

Abandoned: this cat was found dumped in Haverhill – pregnant with her two kittens, who are now two weeks old. CP

Free is the magic zumba

A FEEL-GOOD programme of free outdoor zumba and spinning classes has begun in a town plaza.

The classes, organised by Haverhill Leisure Centre, started a week ago and will take place over the next five weeks in the Public Plaza in Ehringhausen Way.

It is hoped that the new initiative, running each Thursday – weather permitting – will encourage people to take more exercise outside in the fresh air.

There are turn-up-and-try sessions of zumba – a dance and fitness class with a latin theme – at 6pm followed by spinning at 7.20pm, for which booking is essential.

Over the past year, the leisure centre's popular zumba classes have attracted more than 130 people each week and the outdoor class last week continued in the same vein with 30 turning up for the first class.

Meanwhile the spinning session, restricted to 15 bikes, saw participants ride to the rhythm of music and the encouragement of instructors.

Mandy Felton, assistant fitness manager, said: "Zumba and spinning are our most popular classes at Haverhill Leisure Centre and we want people to come along and see what they are missing out on.

"We want to promote health and well-being in Haverhill and it is all free. Hopefully we can get people to exercise who don't normally."

All ages can try zumba while spinners have to be at least 16.

To book your spinning class place, contact (01440) 702548 or if you are a member of Abbecroft book online at www.acleisure.com.

Half-marathon is a first for region

BY ADAM LUKE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

WEST Suffolk is in line to host its first ever half-marathon.

The October 1 event was announced at a launch on Tuesday, where calls were made for runners and sponsors to come forward.

It will start and end at the White Horse Pub in Withersfield, where refreshments will be provided, following a 13-mile loop through the countryside – taking in part of Cambridgeshire.

The event, dubbed Jog On To Kidney Cancer, is the brainchild of charity worker Leela Huckstep, who has designed the race on behalf of the James Whale Fund for Kidney Cancer.

She said: "I come from the area and thought there wasn't really a half-marathon around here so saw an opportunity."

"The idea is for it to be a fun run open to anyone, even those who want to walk it."

"We want to raise awareness of kidney cancer, which doesn't get enough attention even though there is such a high number of incidents. More than 8,000 people a year are diagnosed with it."

James Whale, where Leela works, is based in Cambridge and is the UK's leading specialist kidney cancer charity, seeking to reduce the harm caused by the illness by increasing knowledge, providing patient information and supporting research into the causes, prevention and treatment.

Leela, whose parents live in Withersfield, added: "We are now appealing for local sponsors for the race and for people to support the White Horse and what they are doing – more money means more money for the charity."

The route take runners in a loop via Thurlow and Carlton before ending up back in Withersfield.

The registration fee is £15 and participants must pledge to raise at least £50 each.

Organisers are grateful to Kedington Stores for sponsoring water for the

Chemical spill factory: bosses in safety pledge

REASSURANCES that adequate safety plans are in place have been given by a chemical company following a spillage incident.

Hundreds of residents were warned to stay in their homes after aluminium chloride spilled out of a tanker at the International Flavours and Fragrances (IFF) site in Duddery Hill, Haverhill, and reacted with wind and rain to create toxic fumes.

Mick Driver, who is chairman of the Haverhill Show Committee, questioned what would have happened if the recent spillage had been more serious and whether adequate safety plans existed.

He said residents feared a major incident at IFF could 'take out half of Haverhill' and that people had still been walking about after police started issuing warnings to stay in their homes.

He claimed only a 'half-hearted' attempt was made to seal off the area.

A Spokesman for IFF said: "IFF has robust health, safety and emergency response procedures which have resulted in an excellent health and safety record."

"Our first priority is the health and safety of our employees and the communities where we have facilities and we regret any concern or inconvenience to local residents and businesses when the recent spill occurred."

"We always work closely and cooperate fully with Suffolk Fire and Rescue and other external agencies to ensure everyone's safety."

"We are currently carrying out a full and thorough analysis and working closely with the Health and Safety Executive and the emergency services to analyse and learn from the recent incident."

Sporting youngsters show they're winners

Well done: Ted Sullivan, 11, and Brian Jones, chairman of Abbeycroft Leisure.

TWO children with learning difficulties have received awards celebrating their sporting success.

Ted Sullivan, 11, of Steeple Bumpstead, near Haverhill, and Catherine Plant, 16, of Bury St Edmunds, competed in three events in the Suffolk Youth Games as part of Abbeycroft Leisure's West Suffolk Tigers disability team.

The duo were presented with certificates, backpacks, Paralympic pins and London 2012 water bottles on the occasion, which was made extra special given that it was the first time a disabled team had entered the event.

The youngsters' efforts helped St Edmundsbury finish third out of five in their group, which also included Bury Town Wanderers and Bury Bombers.

About 200 people attended the showcase day – organised by the charity Optua at Bury Leisure Centre – which offered disability sport taster sessions and Olympic and Paralympic themed theatre, music and dance workshops.

David Finn, leisure services manager for Optua, and one of the event's organisers, said: "It's important that disabled people benefit from the 2012 Games. Events like this give people the opportunity to find out a bit more about what's going on in their local area. It's about us encouraging people to attend the clubs on a regular basis."

Aiden's making great progress

Sir, I wanted to give you an update on my son, Aiden.

Aiden has just finished an intensive block of physio and has come on in leaps and bounds; he is now able to link roll and commando crawl a little. This means he is able to explore his surroundings; he is very proud of himself when he rolls about and it's lovely to watch him smiling as he is able to play with Owen a little more now.

We have been given exercises to focus on and we are now concentrating on teaching Aiden how to get into a sitting position from lying down on his own. We have ordered Aiden some special little boots so that when he spends time in his standing frame he has a more stable base to work from. Aiden loves to stand up so we either support him to stand or he spends time in his standing frame. It's very important for Aiden to spend time standing up as this develops his muscles and also helps with hip alignment and bone development. We have had a couple of large donations from local organisations recently – The St Edmunds Wheel Trust kindly donated £500 to Aiden and International Flavours and Fragrances have also donated £200. We are very grateful for both of these donations. Our total is now £8,795, which is brilliant, but we still have a long way to go before we reach our target.

We have a number of events planned to try and raise money for Aiden; the next local event is the Ladies' Pamper Night on Thursday, August 4, at Bar Vu. Tickets cost £5 and are available from Bar Vu, Deja Vu or by emailing aidensfootsteps@hotmail.co.uk. We will have butlers in the buff who will be serving drinks on the night. There will also be pampering treatments, pole dancing demonstrations, Ann Summers games and a raffle.

Thanks for all of your help and support.

Buying a shop not the answer

Sir, can the item written in the Weekly News be true? ('Council pondering buying a shop – to rent out at low rate', July 28). Haverhill Town Council proposing to buy one empty shop to help the high street recover – is this a joke? With whose money?

Borrowing £700,000 for 20 years to hopefully cover the repayments or even better 40 years not as an investment but to help the cost of their funding one lucky business which can enjoy a very low rent – madness.

Is this the same town council appealing for understanding when they thought funding was to be cut so increased everyone's contribution to the town council by an average extra yearly £20, and to justify it said the Art Centre might have to make cuts?

We had no say in the money that was taken. It was said part could and would be refunded the sum of

MEMORIES

■ THIS week's picture, taken from our archives, shows a group of young people washing a car.

Do you recognise anyone in the picture or know what the event was? Do you know where and when it was taken?

£10 should their funding not be cut – it wasn't and they gained a great deal more. When will we see our refund?

Why have the councillors agreed to look at playing landlord, propping up a business and getting us all into debt for up to 40 years? How is this helping the people of Haverhill when we are already trying to keep up with rising costs? It is not realistic you can't help a failing high street by getting into debt to become a cheap landlord.

What wicked fun we used to have

Sir, "It must be a joke," I said out loud on reading the article about a bicycle dustcap ('Police call sparks mun's outburst, Weekly News, July 21). "Of course it's a joke," said my husband, "surely no policeman would possibly stoop to threatening a prank-happy teenager with arrest, unless he replaced the dust cap and wrote a letter of apology."

My husband and I are approaching 60 years of age. The many laughs we and our schoolmates had as teenagers, finding someone had nicked the dust caps off our bikes, so hurriedly returned the compliment and nicked a replacement off another school chum's bike.

It was simply par for the course then, as was knocking on doors and running away, smoking rolled-up dried leaves, even such daring escapades as asking the local grocer if he had any broken biscuits and when told he had, running out of the shop shouting "Well, why don't you mend them?"

Oh, what wicked fun we had in those days, and what charge would those 'crimes' warrant today, I wonder?

With drug-taking, assaults, burglary etc rife in and around Haverhill, I despair in the knowledge that our council tax is being abused over this utterly petty incident. Residents of Haverhill, your teenage sons must beware. Tell them never to say to a girl she is fat, ugly, cross-eyed even. Such disgraceful abuse of her human dignity would surely warrant an immediate arrest, finger-printing, overnight custody and a criminal record lodged for eternity.

I truly, truly despair of what the world is coming to.

Why switch off all of the lights?

Sir, would it not be safer, and still save energy costs, if instead of all street lighting being switched off at night, every other light was switched off?

Tutor group offers special classes

CHILDREN from the Haverhill area will get the chance to join special tutoring classes in English and Maths at a town school.

The TLC Education Group has announced five partnerships with schools across East Anglia including Samuel Ward Academy in Chalkstone Way, in Haverhill.

TLC is to set up a learning centre onsite which will offer youngsters aged 6 to 16 individual maths and English tuition alongside GCSE preparation, whether they are pupils at Samuel Ward or in other local schools.

Tutoring sessions will take place during study periods or after school, and will see students use unique learning software, based around the national curriculum.

Teachers will be on hand to monitor progress and answer questions, with tutor groups being no larger than five at any given time, allowing one-to-one tuition at affordable rates.

Police alert after sat-navs targeted

A SERIES of thefts of satellite navigation systems from parked cars has led police to issue an appeal.

Haverhill has been struck by numerous thefts of the systems after offenders have smashed car windows.

Officers have been leaving flyers on car windows where the gadgets and other items potentially attractive to thieves have been on show.

PCSO Debs Carroll-Beer of the Haverhill Safer

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Neighbourhood Team said: "There is a huge problem of sat-navs being stolen.

"To make people aware of this we have been leaving notes on windscreen where they are on display."

The flyers state: "You have had a visitor. Fortunately it was by a police officer and not a car thief."

The note also leaves details about when and where the car was parked when the police saw it, before saying "please remove personal and valuable belongings".

PCSO Carroll-Beer also said that the force has had to deal with the theft of five bicycles during the week – some taken from people's front gardens.

She added: "We advise people to keep bikes locked or chained up in a garden shed at all times when not being used."

Sam sets out on year of fun

Dragon's den: Sam Godsmark from Haverhill with mascot Scales.

Picture: Keith Jones 758777.

FREE fun for a whole year was won by 7-year-old Samuel Godsmark at his local leisure centre.

Samuel, from Haverhill, was presented with an annual pass to the town leisure centre's Kid City soft play area after winning first prize in a raffle at Haverhill's Big Day Out event last week.

The competition was run to mark the launch of a new annual membership for the popular indoor play area. The centre's mascot, Scales the dragon, gave out free raffle tickets to parents and children at the event as well as 'golden tickets' for £1 and £2 reduced entry to Kid City.

The new annual membership costs £75 for the first child and £60 for each additional child in one family. It includes entry to Kid City/Tots Town for 12 months, free access to all Kid City activities and Kid City summer holiday activities, a free space for the birthday child on a party, a membership card and Scales the dragon's newsletter. It also includes two bring-along-a-buddy vouchers.

Alison Bowyer from Haverhill Leisure Centre said: "We are delighted for Samuel and we hope he enjoys their visits to Kid City. We expect the annual membership to be very popular in Haverhill as it provides a substantial discount to regular visitors."

Contest call to photographers

TENANTS of an innovative housing provider are being encouraged to capture the beauty of their gardens by entering a photography competition.

The contest, called In my Garden, has been set up by Havebury to showcase the creative skills of residents and highlight the variety of flora and fauna neighbourhoods of Haverhill and surrounding areas.

Karen Mayhew, Havebury's chief executive, said: "The photos can be of anything, from insects and birds to spectacular garden creations. We would particularly love to see what kind of wildlife can be found in gardens."

The winning image will be used on the front cover of this year's Havebury Annual Report, with runner-up photographs used in other publicity material. There are two categories – one for 18 years and under and another for aged 19 and above.

The first prize in each category is £100 to spend on photo or gardening equipment, with two runner-up prizes of £50.

Entries can be emailed to office@havebury.com or sent on CD to The Havebury Housing Partnership, FREEPOST ANG20802, Bury St Edmunds, IP33 3ZP. The closing date is Friday, August 26.

Business pair unite for launch

TWO successful women are launching a new enterprise to help others follow their lead.

Jan Cavelle and Theresa Foddering met West Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock to tell him about their new scheme to help boost local businesses in Haverhill.

Jan runs a successful furniture manufacturing business in Haverhill, sending furniture to top destinations worldwide, after taking over the company to save it from closure.

She is a passionate supporter of British enterprise and was selected as one of 50 women representing Britain as an EU Initiative UK Female Entrepreneurship Ambassador, one of 250 female entrepreneurs across Europe under the scheme.

In addition, she has just been announced as one of the Eastern Enterprise Hub's Enterprise Superstars, selected by the Hub to inspire the area's potential entrepreneurs.

Theresa is founder and owner of Arevolution, the successful and popular beauty salon in Haverhill. Her own achievements were highlighted at the Chamber of Commerce Awards this year when she won three awards:

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Retailer of the Year, Small Business of the Year and the top award, Business of the Year.

Jan said that after the awards, she approached Theresa as an inspirational figure for local potential entrepreneurs. Between them, and working with Start Up Britain, they have been putting together a project to kickstart enterprise in Haverhill.

Jan said: "Who could be a better example of what someone can achieve in setting up and running a business than Theresa?"

Mr Hancock met the two women to discuss the UK Female Entrepreneurship Ambassador scheme. Jan is keen to create an entrepreneurship culture within the Haverhill area and has asked for Mr Hancock's help in promoting her idea.

Mr Hancock said: "Jan is a fantastic example of someone who runs a successful small business. Her plan is to work with local schools, Jobcentre Plus and local businesses to get more women into enterprise business moving in the area."

Firms urged to polish up skills for Games launch

FREE advice for businesses on how to improve customer service skills in time for the London 2012 Olympic Games is being offered by Suffolk Chamber of Commerce.

Businesses in Haverhill are being urged to take up advice on available training, with one year to go until the Olympic and Paralympic Games.

The economic impact of the Olympics in the UK means businesses are likely to benefit by £66 million in extra revenue.

John Dugmore, Chief Executive of Suffolk Chamber of Commerce, said: "London 2012 is a once-in-a-generation opportunity for your business to benefit from the Olympic and Paralympic Games. People across Suffolk will be either visiting or watching the Games.

"Now is the time to ensure that your customer service is spot-on and take advantage of the advice that is available through the On Our Marks campaign.

"Visitors to Suffolk during the Games will not only be here in 2012. If we show them a good time, provide them with the best possible service they can find, then they will want to come back for many years to come."

Moonlight walkers to support hospice

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

WOMEN who work at a biotech company are hoping to raise money for their local hospice by taking part in a moonlight walk.

The team from Genzyme in Haverhill will be raising cash for St Nicholas Hospice Care by taking part in this year's Girls Night Out moonlight walk next month.

Sara Morrish, who works in the finance department at the biotechnology firm, has been drumming up support for the walk for weeks.

She said: "St Nicholas Hospice Care is a charity that Genzyme has always supported. It is nice to know you can make a little bit of difference. People who work here have been helped by the hospice in one way or another.

"Who knows, we all may need the help of it one day."

It'll be a stroll: hospice fundraisers Jenny Baskett and Abby Mayes with Cathryn Starling, Lucy King and Sara Morrish of Genzyme.

This week, Jenny Baskett and Abby Mayes, from the St Nicholas Hospice Care fundraising team, paid a visit to Genzyme, dressed in their pyjamas, to tell staff about Girls Night Out.

Lucy King, from Genzyme, said: "I decided to sign up for Girls Night Out after seeing Abby and Jenny in their PJs.

"Everyone speaks highly of the hospice and I know Genzyme has raised funds for it in the past. Now I feel it is time for me to make my contribution."

Also joining the Genzyme Girls Night Out team is Cathryn Starling, who is excited about dressing up in her pyjamas and bunny ears to stroll an 11.2-mile route through the streets of Bury St Edmunds on September 17.

Cathryn said: "I have personal experience of the support the hospice provides, which is why I decided to take part."

The Genzyme team hopes to arrange fundraising events in the lead up to the Girls Night Out, including a cake sale and a 'wear your PJs to work day'.

Anyone thinking of entering a team for the Girls Night Out should contact Jenny on (01284) 715583 or email jenny.baskett@stnh.org.uk.

Haverhill Rovers set for kick-off

Haverhill Rovers in action: The season ahead starts with a strong positive team to compete in this season's Ridgeons League Premier Division.

WHAT do Arsenal and the Haverhill Rovers have in common? Apart from their dedicated fan bases, both teams are this year celebrating their 125th birthdays.

Unlike the Gunners, the Haverhill Rovers FC have plenty of local talent on their books, and are currently on the lookout for skilled forwards for the new season.

Football fans will be delighted to know the season kicks off on August 13, and the Rovers will be warming up with a friendly away match against Herne Bay in Kent, yet another team celebrating the milestone anniversary this year.

Team manager Peter Betts says: "We're lucky to have good local lads on side, and we'll hopefully do well. It's an overall good squad, with good strength and depth to it."

The team has had national recognition this summer, with an FA Community Club Charter Standard Award for its provision of equal opportunities football coaching, with a great standard of teaching available for young people, women and disabled players, as well as for local lads.

Other good news is the completion of the team's new grounds, near the Samuel Ward Academy, complete with a bar and refreshments for hungry supporters. Club merchandise will also be available when the season begins.

Abuse victims in legal action

VICTIMS of a sadistic headmaster who abused them 30 years ago have launched legal action against the company which ran the schools they attended.

Russell White, 40, who lives in Haverhill and works as a doorman in Cambridge, was one of those abused by Derek Slade at a Suffolk boarding school during the 1980s. Slade was jailed for 21 years last September after admitting a reign of terror at his schools.

Mr White, 40, pictured, waived his anonymity to speak of how he was beaten by Slade, and also set up charity Stop Abuse Now and Forever (SANAF) with Mark Smith, who also suffered at the hands of Slade at the school.

Now he is part of a group court action launched against Anglemoss Ltd of Great Finborough, the company which ran the school near Stowmarket and another in Norfolk where Slade worked. In total around 35 men are involved in the legal action and it is believed payouts could total in the region of £1 million if they are successful.

Law firm Abney Garsden McDonald, of Cheadle Hulme, near Manchester, is representing many of those Slade was convicted of abusing.

Its principal Peter Garsden, who is also president of the Association of Child Abuse Lawyers, said it was representing 13 victims of abuse from around the country, as well as some in New Zealand.

The case was unlikely to be heard for at least two years, unless the defendants offer to settle the matter out of court, which Mr Garsden urged them to do.

He said: "We are hoping to set up a group action for all the victims in order to give them time to come forward and make their claims.

"Such were the activities of Derek Slade in the position of a headmaster over a number of years, that it likely that the number of individuals that were abused is much higher than we know about.

"I am making a plea to the school that they should not put the victims through more emotional torment than necessary.

"We do not want them to have to give evidence of their abuse more than is necessary.

"We thus hope that they will contact us to negotiate a settlement, and avoid any more conflict."

Rethink over blanket testing

ELECTRIC blanket testing sessions will be held in Haverhill after councillors objected to being left out.

Cllr Roger Andre of Haverhill Town Council and town clerk Gordon Mussett contacted Suffolk County Council after receiving a notice of sessions for testing blankets across the county, which did not include the town as it had in previous years.

Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service and Suffolk County Council's Trading Standards work together to organise the sessions, to reduce the number of fires that are caused by unsafe electric blankets.

Haverhill Town Council recently supported an unsuccessful campaign in the town to stop weekend and evening cover being reduced to on-call fire fighters, rather than having the fire station manned at these times.

Initially Mr Mussett was told that only the existing sessions to be held at Bury St Edmunds, Ipswich and Lowestoft in September would go ahead, due to limited funding.

However, after receiving comments from the town council, including Mr Mussett's view that the town's elderly were losing out in 'a postcode lottery', it was agreed that Haverhill should be included. The spokesman confirmed that an event would be held in Haverhill, probably during this month.

Anyone who has an electric blanket which has not been tested for three years or more can book a free test by calling (01473) 260588.

MoT text reminders

TRAFFIC police are encouraging motorists to log their details with a new service that reminds people of their MoT expiry date.

The Vehicle and Operator Services Agency (VOSA) has set up a service, which sends a text message mobile phones when an MoT is due.

To sign up, visit www.direct.gov.uk/en/Motoring/OwninaVehicle/Mot/index.htm. Once completed, drivers will get text reminders of their expiry date on three occasions. The text will cost about £1.50.

Churches to celebrate role

CHURCHES from across Suffolk are getting prepared to take part in Open Churches Week, holding events ranging from bell-ringing to tower tours.

The landmarks in the county's villages, towns and cities will celebrate their heritage and their place at the heart of the community from Saturday until August 13.

More than 40 Suffolk churches are holding events, which will also include crafts and art exhibitions.

The Rt Rev Nigel Stock, Bishop of St Edmundsbury, said the week is a reminder that churches should be accessible to everyone, whether tourists, pilgrims or local people. He added: "There is much to learn and discover in these wonderful buildings but, more importantly they are powerful reminders of centuries of Christian worship."

Clare's St Peter and St Paul will be open, allowing visitors to enjoy its richly-decorated nave and chancel, as well as a gallery of 15th century roof faces and lavish private pews, featuring emblems of Henry VIII and Catherine of Aragon.

St Peter and St Paul will also be on show in Kedington. Its impressive 16th century furnishings have earned it the nickname "the Westminster Abbey of Suffolk".

St Mary's in Great Bradley, St John the Baptist in Stoke-by-Clare, All Saints in Wickhambrook and St Mary's in Withersfield will also be open to the public.

Wood you believe it? These boats float!

CHILDREN enjoyed their own day at the races in Haverhill – and tried to avoid sinking.

It wasn't horses but boats which were the centre of attention as youngsters were challenged to build their own craft which could stay afloat.

Rangers from East Town Park in Coupals Road provided the materials on Friday for the youngsters to come up with the best vessel possible before the race took place down the river in Motts Field.

Almost 50 children also took part in snail races.

Colin Jakes, senior ranger at the park, said: "We have a popular Easter egg hunt earlier in the year and decided it would be good to introduce something for the summer."

"It was a great success and the children enjoyed themselves. We will be bringing it back next year."

Haverhill Townswomen's Guild

THE July meeting commenced with three more celebrations. Mrs Peta Reed received a certificate and badge for being in the Guild for 50 years. What an achievement.

Mrs Irene Ward received flowers and a card as she is 80 years young. Mrs Irene Hampson received flowers on the occasion of her golden wedding.

Again we had lovely cakes for refreshments. There was then a hilarious quiz and the winning team received small prizes. The quiz was arranged by the chairman, who also gave the guild a report on Mrs Norma Poole, a guild member who is very unwell.

A good many guild members went to Risby barns on Sunday, July 17. After exploring the antiques in the two barns we had a really good meal in the restaurant.

At 3pm we went to Risby

Church, where medieval paintings were uncovered after cleaning. A fascinating church with a round tower. We were taken around by a lady of the church who told us that during the Reformation, villagers dismantled the screens and hid them as they did with many other treasures. The font was medieval too, with lots of stone carvings. In the vestry there is an outside wall with a small apse where the lepers in the area were allowed to worship. This trip was arranged by Mrs Paulene Griggs.

At the next guild meeting on August 23 is a demonstration of flower arranging by Mrs Jenny Coe, who is very amusing while doing her lovely arrangements. These will be raffled after, everyone hoping they will win.

Anyone who would like to come along would be made very welcome. Just come along or telephone Mrs Hampson on 01440 714730.

Switch-off plan 'crazy'

COUNCILLORS who believe switching off street lights will lead to a reduction in crime have been accused of living in 'dream land' by a worried resident.

Retired butcher Terence Turner, 68, fears that plans to turn off street lights in Haverhill will cause 'absolute carnage', and that the town's police force will be unable to cope.

Mr Turner, right, of Horsham Close, Haverhill, said: "We haven't got the police here to do anything about it. Our police spend too much time in Bury St Edmunds. Where I live there are no pubs, but where people drink there are going to be problems in the town."

"Bury has double the officers we have and if anyone is arrested in Haverhill, two officers have to take them to Bury."

"I think it is absolutely crazy."

Only a few weeks ago the police were telling us to park our cars in well-lit area. It is even more crazy when councillors say it will cut crime.

"I have lived in Haverhill for 45 years and recently a man near me was woken up at 3am by 15 youngsters - girls and boys - going towards the rugby club and one of them walked across the top of someone's car. Why do they do these things and why are people around at 2-3am? We never were because we had to get up at 5am to go to work."

"If the police think that everyone goes to bed at 10pm they are living in dream land. We get all the cutbacks in Haverhill and Bury has just got a new forensic centre; it is all wrong."

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A spokesman for Suffolk Police said: "Suffolk Constabulary has been working closely with Suffolk County Council as it makes its decision on which street lights to turn off or dim. We have given our views and recommendations on which areas would benefit from having lights kept on and will continue to feed back any thoughts or concerns to the council as the changes take place. Some of Haverhill's lighting is not operated by the county council and so will not be affected by these changes."

"Policing across Suffolk consists of many different teams of officers and staff which can be called upon to deal with any situation that arises."

"Response officers are given a set area to patrol and cover, and this is managed dynamically by the force operations room to move officers around according to needs and demand."

"Response officers work from Haverhill police station in five shifts of a sergeant and four PCs, alongside the Safer Neighbourhood Team which is dedicated to the town and has had an additional two officers join in the past year."

"Specialist officers including roads policing, dogs, CID, air support plus the special constabulary are all used as and when they are required to keep the area safe, investigate crimes and respond to any incidents which occur, and together these teams have helped reduce crime in Haverhill."

THE time has come to seek out the most exceptional men, women and children who warrant special recognition in the Community Awards 2011, run by our sister paper, the Cambridge News.

We need our readers to nominate groups and individuals who have gone above and beyond the call of duty by helping others in the community or through their outstanding achievements.

Worthy winners from across the region take to the stage each year to accept their awards and prizes from across a wide range of categories.

Among the inspirational winners last year was 11-year-old Alexia Sloane who scooped the Young Achiever award.

Despite her blindness, caused by a brain tumour at the age of two, Alexia achieved two A* GCSEs in French and Spanish at the age of just 9 and is continuing to learn Mandarin Chinese.

Alexia's dream is to become an interpreter and so as a special prize for all her achievements, the Cambridge News organised a trip to the European Parliament, in Brussels.

Alexia's dad Richard said: "The prize was so special and unique to Alexia. Having met three other blind interpreters in Brussels she is even more determined that this is what she wants to do."

Also to take to the stage was 90-year-old Philippa Hill, who was presented with the Lifetime Achievement award for devoting her life to helping people with disabilities in Cambridge.

Philippa was thrilled to accept the award on behalf of everyone at the St Raphael Club, based at Hester Adrian Centre, Chesterton, where for the past 56 years she has helped physically disabled people learn, make friends and enjoy themselves.

It is admirable stories like these which are needed for this year's awards, supported by local businesses and organisations.

There are 10 categories in total, seven for individuals, two for groups and one overall award for Star of the Year which will be awarded to the most outstanding nomination of the evening.

The Boyz are back in town

WHEN Shane Lynch steps out on stage at Newmarket Nights this month, all bulging biceps, body art and bravado, he will betray nothing of his inner anxieties.

With a reputation as a hothead plus an insatiable appetite for extreme sports – specifically the high-octane motorsport ‘drifting’ – you’d expect an appearance with his Boyzone bandmates to be a walk in the park for the brooding Dubliner.

However, getting up and performing in front of thousands of fans is something that Shane still finds daunting – and he believes this stems back to his battle with dyslexia.

“Being on stage is an extreme thing for me as I’m really quite a shy guy and don’t like to put myself out there, which I suppose is to do with the dyslexia and the fact that I like to hide away from things,” he explains in his laid-back Irish drawl.

“So being on stage is an extreme event, just as drifting is an extreme motorsport – and both are a bit of an outlet for me.”

Finding fame in 1993 – and making an indelible imprint on our minds with that infamous appearance on The Late Late Show with Gay Byrne when Shane danced manically in blue dungarees and grabbed his crotch – Boyzone have enjoyed success beyond their wildest dreams, selling a 15 million records. But Shane maintains his dyslexia meant he took a backseat in the band.

“The world of entertainment seems great as you aren’t stuck in an office where you have to read things, but then you always come up against a brick wall – and the brick wall for me was our TV appearances when we’d have to read autocue and scripts,” he explains.

“Luckily there were always five of us in the band so the boys took the intros into TV shows so I didn’t have to. In fact that was one of the reasons that I stayed mostly in the background,” he muses.

Despite the personal challenges that come with fame, Shane looks back with fondness on those exciting early days when the band had hits with tracks like No Matter What, Words and All I Need.

The Shane of today is undoubtedly calmer – maybe thanks to being happily married to his singer wife, Sheena White, with whom he has a two-year-old daughter Billie Rae?

“Definitely it’s having something to go home to; that’s the thing for every man. Having your freedom is great and we love to be a little bit wild but to be able to come home to a family, to a kid and a wife is absolutely amazing,” he enthuses.

And perhaps also his happiness lies in the fact that since Ronan, Mikey, Keith and the late Stephen went their separate ways in 2000, Shane spent the seven years until the band’s reunion busily carving out a career for himself, starring in various reality shows from The Games to Celebrity Love Island, acting, and becoming something of an entrepreneur.

“We were only meant to be taking a short break, but two years in it was clear nothing was happening, so I branched out into reality shows, took a clothing business under my arm and started various businesses, which I now have coming out of my ears!” he smiles.

At the helm of Evolution Fightwear (selling martial arts clothing), Prestige Wrap (a business which literally wraps cars, helicopters and boats to help prevent them losing value), as well as Lynch Motorsports, and just about to launch his own brand of vodka – Ver2 – Shane certainly has his work cut out keeping his businesses ticking over. Though the self-confessed petrolhead admits he spends the majority of his time indulging in his passion of ‘drifting’.

For those who haven’t heard of it, here’s the science bit – it’s an adrenaline-pumping motorsport in which the driver intentionally over-steers, causing loss of traction in the rear wheels through turns, while maintaining vehicle control and a high exit speed. So adept has the boybander become at the motorsport he’s now in his fifth season competing in the British Drifting Championships – and shows his ‘commitment’ by dedicating all the tattoos on the left side of his body to motorsport (while the right side is a tribute to his musical career).

“The initial appeal of drifting was not the excitement but the skill involved and I was presented with a massive challenge when it came to driving a drift car. Being the extreme man that I am, I had to learn how to do it, and once I sat behind the wheel I loved it,” he explains.

Obviously the sport is not without its dangers but it’ll be taking a back seat this month when the Boyzone clan head out on their summer tour to entertain crowds in Newmarket.

“It’s a month since we’ve all been together so we’re really looking forward to Newmarket. To be honest with you, it’s easier for us boys as we don’t have a full set and a full big production like you do in an arena; this one is outdoors, it’s raw, people will have been on the beer all day, so it’s a proper enjoyable event for us guys,” he smiles.

Clearly there’s one member of the band who’ll be missed at Newmarket. Following Stephen Gately’s untimely death in 2009, the grieving bandmates released an album, Brother, in tribute to their friend.

And, as Shane explain, the loss can hit him at any moment on stage: “We do get emotional. Some days it catches you at a point when you think you’re strong, it’s all good, you’re up there having a good old moment and you let your guard down and that’s when you realise how much raw emotion and hurt you still have; you’re singing lyrics and all of a sudden you’ll have tears dropping from your eyes.”

ON STAGE: Shane Lynch will be stepping out with Boyzone at the latest of the Newmarket Nights concerts tomorrow.

Puppet show leads the fun for children

SEALEGS Puppet Theatre, who brought us The Ugly Duckling, return to Haverhill Arts Centre today at 2pm with Little Bo Peep, a puppet show for 2- to 7-year-olds. Little Bo Peep has lost her sheep and doesn't know where to find them. Meanwhile as the Nursery Rhyme Man is baking a surprise cake for her birthday, a naughty mouse keeps stealing the ingredients. The second two-hour drama workshop with Samantha Tucker is a fun introduction to drama on Tuesday August 9 at 2.30pm. Aimed at the 5-7 age group, this workshop will introduce children to drama, with games, storytelling and acting culminating in a short play based on the much loved book The Gruffalo, by Julia Donaldson.

Over to cinema, in Swinging With The Finkels (15) today at 7.45pm, a suburban couple whose marriage hits the rocks have to decide whether to continue together as they are or attempt to relight the flame they are both missing by discovering swinging. Pirates of the Caribbean: On Stranger Tides (2D) is showing tomorrow at 10.30am and 2.30pm.

Actors from the Cambridge Touring Theatre are holding a drama workshop on Sunday at 3.30pm for children aged 5-11 years before they present Wind in the Willows at East Town Park on at 5pm.

The big film

SUPER 8 certificate 12A 111m

IN the summer of 1982, an earthbound alien phoned home and audiences wept with joy, cementing Steven Spielberg's reputation as the greatest film-maker of his generation.

E.T. The Extra-Terrestrial was a cultural phenomenon envisioning the cruel world through the eyes of a young boy as he risked everything to protect his visiting friend from scientists and shadowy government agents.

Almost 30 years later, director JJ Abrams pays homage to Spielberg's fantasy with Super 8, a rollicking adventure that depicts the rampage of an alien creature in rural 1970s America from the perspective of six children whose worlds have just been rocked by Star Wars and Star Trek: The Motion Picture.

In a sleepy industrial town in Ohio, teenager Joe Lamb (Joel Courtney) is struggling to come to terms with the death of his mother and the strain it has put on his father, Deputy Sheriff Jackson Lamb (Kyle Chandler).

The youngster invests his time in making a low-budget zombie film with his friends. Director Charles (Riley Griffiths) bosses everyone around and special effects expert Cary (Ryan Lee) provides the fake gore while dim-witted leading man Martin (Gabriel Basso) tries to remember his lines to the chagrin of long-suffering soundman Preston (Zach Mills).

To increase the film's chances of winning first prize in a nationwide competition, Charles persuades classmate Alice (Elle Fanning) to sign up as lead actress and the children head down to the local rail station to shoot a night sequence.

Just as the camera starts rolling, the youngsters witness a truck drive onto the tracks and derail an oncoming freight train. As they make a hasty escape, the trespassing teens are oblivious to the monstrous creature crawling free from the twisted wreckage.

Super 8 is a delightful nostalgia trip, recalling a bygone era when young protagonists embarked on amazing journeys and emerged from the melee with barely a scratch or bruise.

You have to suspend your disbelief throughout the film, but as pure unadulterated entertainment there is much to enjoy from the amusing banter between the children to the first clear glimpse of the monster as a reflection in a puddle at a gas station while an unwitting attendant listens to Blondie's Heart Of Glass on his exciting new purchase – a Walkman.

The centrepiece train crash is brilliantly realised and even if the creature design is an anticlimax, the digitally rendered behemoth is seamlessly integrated with the live action.

Time for a spot of gardening leave?

YOU may have packed your suitcases and sorted out your flight tickets in preparation for your two-week summer holiday – but what about the garden?

So many gardeners see all their work go to pot when they are away from home in the summer, as containers dry out, lawns go brown and many plants run to seed in their absence.

However, there are ways to minimise the suffering your plants endure if you are away during a prolonged spell of warm, dry weather, so you can return home to a garden which doesn't look like it's been in a full-scale drought.

Your first port of call is your neighbours and family. Ask if they can water your plants while you're away and harvest crops such as tomatoes and green beans before they go over, keeping what they want for themselves.

Cluster your patio pots together in a sheltered, shady place that is open to the rain, feeding and watering them thoroughly just before leaving. Having them close together will make watering easier, if you have someone to do it for you, and will help conserve moisture if you don't.

If you don't have anyone to water your containers, take down hanging baskets and sit them directly into a depression in the soil surface in a cool, shady spot and drench them with water so the soil underneath is also wet. If you don't have an automatic watering system, use an upturned bottle full of water set into the container, which should release the water as the soil dries.

Alternatively, invest in some strips of capillary matting tucked into the compost at one end and a bucket of water at the other, which should provide enough moisture for the fortnight you're away.

Before you go, remove all the blooms from your containers, not just the faded ones. This should conserve the plants' energy and hopefully will mean new blooms will have emerged by the time you return home.

Don't worry about your lawn. You can choose to leave it long, to conserve moisture and protect the roots. Don't feed it to encourage it to grow fast while you're away. If it has gone the colour of straw on your return, don't worry because it will pick up again in autumn when the rain comes.

Well-established plants in borders shouldn't suffer too much, as their roots will be deep enough to find some moisture in the soil.

Fruit shouldn't suffer if you're away in August, as soft fruit will have been picked before you go and apples and pears won't be ready for harvesting until autumn.

Give veg a really good soaking before you go, pick as much as you can just before you leave, blanching and freezing what you can't use, or give it to a kindly neighbour who may return the favour with a bit of watering in your absence.

If you do rely on your friends and neighbours to do the watering for you while you're away, make sure you bring them back a present.

Doors set to open in September

LEADING local agents Abbotts are planning to take part in this year's Big September Move – the UK's largest Open House weekend, which will take place on September 17 and 18.

Abbotts will join more than 1,300 agents throughout the UK to help their committed buyers, sellers, landlords and tenants complete their sale or purchase by the end of the year.

Abbotts also took part in the last UK-wide Open House event in May which attracted over 31,000 viewings over one weekend.

Launching the Open House weekend, Philip Macdonald, managing director said: "Previous open house weekends have seen sales agreed on properties before the end of the weekend, which is an excellent result for the seller and the buyer. The attraction for our clients – both buyers and sellers – is the potential for home movers to see the widest selection of properties within one weekend, without having to make several appointments spanning over a number of days.

"There is still time for local homeowners and landlords to sign up and take part. We anticipate this event to be the biggest yet as we are currently seeing a huge amount of buyer interest in the properties we currently have for sale in East Anglia."

To coincide with this event, Countrywide Mortgage Services consultants operating in Abbotts' offices across the region will be offering exclusive mortgages and will also be available to discuss the financial options available for buyers including the Government's new First Buy initiative.

Abbotts agents will be on hand to offer their expertise all weekend and those interested in viewing a property can contact their local branch to obtain a unique password which will allow access to the property for the viewing.

An exclusive list of all the properties taking part in the Open House Weekend can be viewed at www.propertywide.co.uk.

OPENING SOON: There's still time to join The Big September Move, the UK's largest Open House Weekend, says Philip Macdonald, above, of Abbotts

Honda triumphs in used car reliability poll

HONDA beat rivals to the top of the What Car? used car league table thanks to an impressively low 9 per cent failure rate in the first 12 months.

Honda dominated the top of the SUV table with the HR-V and CR-V at number one and two. Jazz and Accord both come fifth in their respective classes while Civic came third in the small hatchback category.

"The success of Honda in this years' reliability study is very impressive, especially as this is Honda's sixth overall win as the UK's most reliable car maker. Reliability is key for car buyers. The car makers at the bottom of the study have a lot of work to do to catch up with Honda," commented What Car? editor-in-chief, Chas Hallett.

If you wanted more proof What Car? isn't the only title to recognise Honda's bullet-proof reliability. The 2011 Which? Car survey last week named Honda as the Most Reliable Brand and the 2011 JD Power Vehicle Ownership Satisfaction Study saw Honda retain the number two spot in the overall league table – the highest-placed volume manufacturer. The JD

The Honda CR-V: Impressive turn in 'What Car?' reliability study.

Power Survey also awarded Jazz its eighth consecutive win in the supermini class and, for the second year running, Accord topped the chart in the family car category, while both Civic and CR-V were ranked second in their own respective classes.

Honda also currently holds the top spot as Britain's most reliable car manufacturer in the influential FN50 survey. Honda beat off rivals in this annual survey which is published by industry-leading publication Fleet News. The report covers 1.5 million vehicles owned or managed by the country's 50 largest contract hire companies. Honda also featured highly in the top ten most reliable cars with the Accord and British-built Civic in second and ninth place respectively.

Why are Honda products so reliable? Since 2004/05, Honda has had a uniform manufacturing process across the world, meaning that the same models, built in different manufacturing plants, are assembled in an identical fashion. This helps to deliver consistency in manufacturing activity and output.

Over 80 per cent of the cars Honda sells in the UK are built at its manufacturing facility in Swindon, so the recent reliability survey results reflect the high standards and engineering expertise of the associates at the plant.

"Success in reliability studies further proves the dedication, skill and passion of our engineers, both at the development and manufacturing stages, and we are incredibly proud to be the most reliable manufacturer in the industry – yet again," added Dave Hodgetts.

What Car?'s top 10 most reliable used cars in terms of the chances of faults in 12 months are:

1. Honda
2. Toyota
3. Suzuki
4. Lexus
5. Mitsubishi
6. Mazda
7. Subaru
8. Hyundai
9. Kia
10. Nissan

Rovers foiled by late leveller

Ipswich Town Academy 3 Haverhill Rovers 3
Under-14 friendly
ONLY a late goal prevented Haverhill Rovers' newly-formed Eastern Junior Alliance team from opening their pre-season schedule with a noteworthy scalp.
The well-drilled Haverhill side more than matched their opponents in the opening stages, with the Academy side struggling to break through a solid rearguard, and it was not long before Johnson broke the deadlock with a thumping 25-yard drive. Ipswich were unable to make any impression on midfield and resorted to harmless long-range efforts which did not cause any problems until a looping effort early in the second half gave them the equaliser. The Academy side tried to wear down Rovers by playing at a fierce tempo, but although they took the lead, Lewis equalised and Mila looked to have sealed the win when he made it 3-2.

But, in the dying minutes, a header appeared to be cleared off the line by Shulver only for the referee to award a goal.
■ West Wratting under-16s are looking for one more player to complete their squad for the new Cambridge and District Colts League campaign. Anyone in school Year 11 interested in joining the A division club should contact Keith Warnock on 01440 821120 or 07850 324602 or visit the club's website www.westwrattingyouthfc.co.uk

Having a ball: Youngsters and helpers at the Haverhill club's under-eights tournament CP

Tough Luke storms to win

LUKE Marsh produced some inspirational play to win the Haverhill club's under-eight tournament.

The talented youngster adopted aggressive tactics off the serve and blew away Matt Magin in the final, winning the match 10-2, and his performance certainly impressed Haverhill club coach Robert Jeffs.

"Luke is the only under-eight player I've ever seen win points from serving and volleying," he said.

Marsh had earlier enjoyed hard-fought wins over Jason Butler and Thomas Parrett in the quarter-final and semi-final respectively.

Magin defeated Connor Webb in the quarter-final and Joshua Webb in the last four.

The battle for third place went Webb's way as he defeated the more experienced Paggett in the play-off.

The club also ran an under-14 tournament which Sam Howard won despite still being eligible for under-12 events.

Howard beat Aaron Thorne in the final, 5-3, 4-2.

&gt;&gt; Cricket: Adams Harrison Midweek League

The long walk: Hundon celebrate as Haverhill II's Liam Savage is sent packing in the League Cup final. Picture: Megan Woodley (CP)

JARVINE Khan smashed defending champions Hundon to victory in the Adams Harrison Midweek League Cup final.

He strode to the crease just as Haverhill II appeared to be getting the upper hand and gave them a much bigger total to chase than they might have expected after the first 10 overs.

He battered a quickfire 58 to lift Hundon to 131 for 8 and, with Saiful Malook taking 3 for 20, Haverhill wound up 36 runs short on 95.

In the League, Sawston's Division One title ambitions were put on hold after they were ruthlessly despatched by a Saffron Walden side inspired by Tom Price and Stephen Larssen.

For the first half of the innings Walden were kept in check until Price scored a valuable 49 and guided them to 135 for 5, a total that looked unassailable as Larssen got to work, taking 6 for 25 to skittle Sawston for 62.

Walden moved up to second after holding off Abington, Neil Gladwin scoring 37 in their 117 with Abington only getting to 62 for 9.

However, defending champions Haverhill are now in danger of relegation after a comprehensive defeat by Weston Colville. Set a target of 103 for victory, the home side breezed in with eight wickets in hand, both Trevor Westley and Adam Taylor scoring 38.

Fulbourn are already on the way down after defeat by relegation-haunted Babraham, who were steered to victory by Chris Palmer (35 not out) and Tom McNulty (32).

The bowling honours went to Stuart Morrison (4 for 14) and Elliott Smith (3 for 36) while James Kindred's top score of 60 from Fulbourn's 97 for 9 was in vain as Babraham put 101 for 6 on the board.

New Haverhill 'horror show' proves costly

ANOTHER batting "horror show" condemned Haverhill to defeat against Mistley in Division One of the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship.

Although the seven points helps keep them above the relegation scramble – indeed had they won and other results gone their way, they could have moved up four places – skipper Simon Youngs was less than impressed after he won the toss and decided to bat first, a decision he came to regret.

Both Dan Pass and Adam Dellar were back in the pavilion without scoring and the innings relied on 58 from No 6 Dan Poole, 23 from Luke Youngs at No 4 and 31 from the skipper coming in at No 8.

They limped to 167 for 9 and Simon Youngs said: "Again our batting has let us down with some poor shots and lack of application. It was another horror show."

However, he was more satisfied with the bowling, which made Mistley labour before picking up the points at 168 for 8.

He said: "Our bowling has been our strength all season and Scott (Webb, 4 for 25) and Anthony (Phillips, 1 for 29 off 11 overs) did brilliant for us."

The second team had no problem with their batting as they swept aside Nacton by 79 runs to maintain their promotion push from Division Six.

Despite an early hiccup when opener Sam Hartshorn failed to trouble the scorers, Dave Brown (64) and Phil Jones (23) compiled a second-wicket partnership worth 81 before they were parted.

Steve Fox (50), Liam Savage (41) and Rob Ketteridge (33 not out) propelled the score to 252 for 6, which was much too good for Nacton, who wound up at 173 for 7 after struggling against an attack spearheaded by spin king Dan Webb (14-3-38-2).

Victory put them in the right frame of mind for the top-of-the-table clash at Tuddenham on Saturday.

Callum Brunning joined an elite band of Haverhill bowlers on Saturday when he spearheaded the Wanderers' defeat of Linton Village III in the Cricket Stick CCA Junior League, Division 6B. Brunning took 7 for 26 as Linton subsided to 104, and he added 21 runs in Wanderers' 105 for 2, a total further boosted by Craig Williams' maiden half-century.

Haverhill's Sunday first team won a last-ball thriller against Ampton & Culford in the Hunts County Bats Sunday League.

Batting first, they scored 194 thanks to Luke Youngs (58), Dan Poole (34), Dan Pass (27), Carl Bradford (22 not out), and the big-hitting Dean Sharpe, who slammed three sixes in his unbeaten 30.

Ampton & Culford made a brisk start, Eastlea bludgeoning his way to 58 out of 66. But once he fell, they were largely kept in check and arrived at the last over needing 10 to win.

Skipper Joe Woodley kept it tight and, with a six needed off the last ball for victory, Luke Youngs held on to a fine catch on the boundary to see Haverhill home by five runs.

■ Anthony Phillips starred with bat and ball as Haverhill II convincingly beat Risby in Hunts County Bats Sunday League, Division Four.

He took 5 for 44 as Risby were whipped out for 150 in the 31st over and then hit 43 not out as Haverhill eased to a seven-wicket victory in the 25th over, with Ben Wilkins contributing a valuable 41.

■ The Lashings World XI hit Haverhill on Thursday for their annual visit. This year's squad features the likes of Chris Harris, Richie Richardson, Curtley Ambrose, Courtney Walsh, Tino Best, Herschelle Gibbs, Gordon Greenidge, John Emburey, Devon Malcolm, Phil Defreitas, Saqlain Mushtaq, Tino Best, Graeme Hick, and Darren Gough and the match, in aid of Haverhill's youth coaching programme, starts at 2pm.

Tickets are available from Haverhill Arts Centre.

The old 1-2: Joe Harvey scores against Ware on Tuesday (main picture) and rifles in the opener against Histon (inset)

Haverhill Rovers 1 Ware Town 3
Pre-season friendly
ROVERS came off second-best in a physical encounter against Ryman League One side Ware on Tuesday. Behind after nine minutes, when a crossfield pass from goalkeeper Alex Archer was intercepted and side-footed into the empty net by Ben Andrews.

Rovers fought back strongly and equalised 19 minutes later when a long pass from Marcus Hunt was collected by Joe Harvey on the edge of the Ware box and he coolly scored. A Vince Rispoli free kick gave Ware the lead just after the half hour and they hit Rovers on the break in the second half – Cedric Kayembe scoring – to make it 3-1 after 64 minutes.

Ben Bradley had a chance to reduce the arrears with 15 minutes left, but his attempt to bundle the ball over the line was cleared.

Haverhill Rovers 1 Histon 1
Pre-season friendly
JACK Sessions struck eight minutes from time to deny Haverhill victory in a tight pre-season game.

Rovers dominated the early stages, forcing a number of corners, but Sessions and Tommy Wright spurned the better chances.

But, with three minutes of the first half remaining, a Joe Harvey piledriver from 35 yards left Histon keeper Callum Kitcher clutching at thin air to give Rovers the edge going into the break.

An even second half produced few chances, and it was left to Sessions, alone on the edge of the Rovers penalty area to lob Alex Archer and give his team the share of the spoils. Rovers complete their pre-season countdown on Sunday when they take on Herne Bay. The following Saturday (August 13) they start their Ridgeons League, Premier Division campaign at Gorleston.
